Created in limited numbers for you who need a fine pen!

Writes dry with wet ink!

The name of this pen sells itself even by sight. The sleek, tapered lines, the design, the look of authority, all suggest a mastery of what's called the disciplined "sagitta" (an arrow) style of penmanship.

It's a style you might like. Parker 51—something made in a fine "fifty" size—has the same style.

But even if you're not a fan of the style, look at the Parker 51. It's a pen that's been around for over 50 years. It's a pen that's been around for over 50 years.

CHURCHILL IN THE JUB. Anybody will agree to the fact that Spidee has made a fairly good job of Prime Minister Churchill's flight. By leaps and bounds in the famous 19th century style, it caricatures the Prime Minister with his long neck, bow tie and the inevitable cigar. The job is good on a flower vase or wall paper (I ask, eagerly). Compared to that is the job of our own F. D. D. The President's face, modeled by famous artist Ken Owen, is reproduced in two sizes on two sizes.

"I smoke a Kaywoodie"

Here is the international "bestseller" among pipes. Kaywoodie is no longer an American creation alone—you hear them saying "I Smoke a Kaywoodie" everywhere in the world. And why? Think another look at the nature of the briar wood in the picture above. Its grain—war, ginseng, Madriennes, wavy, and it's so fine, so fine you practically can't buy it. Kaywoodie has a quality that makes Kaywoodie.

Here some new. So you must! If you have seen, gentle, slow-burning pipes with the Kaywoodie flavor, even now. Remember the time in the picture. Look for the same thing when you buy your pipe. Look also for the name "Kaywoodie" cut gracefully and unobtrusively in the stem of each Kaywoodie Pipe. Nothing else is like it for flavor.

Let $N = 1$. In this case, we get, with the same notation, $W_{\text{max}}(k) = 1$ for all k , so \mathcal{E}_k is just the partition \mathcal{P} of \mathcal{G} induced by \mathcal{C} in $\text{pos}(\mathcal{G})$. Thus, \mathcal{E}_k is just \mathcal{C} and $\mathcal{E}_k \neq \mathcal{C}$ except for $k = 1$.

the 1960s and 1970s, a time known for its social and cultural changes. During this period, the music scene was dominated by rock, soul, and funk, which were often characterized by their raw energy and rebellious spirit. This era also saw the rise of the civil rights movement, which was reflected in the lyrics of many songs. The music of this time was a powerful force for social change, and it continues to influence the music industry today.

Letter to a P.O.W.

WILL YOU WRITE a letter to a Prisoner of War tonight?

Perhaps he was left behind when Britain fell. Perhaps he had to haul out over Germany. Anyway, he's an American, and he hasn't had a letter in a long, long time.

And when you sit down to write, tell him why you didn't buy your share of War Bonds last pay day—if you didn't.

"Dear Joe," you might say, "the old toposet was getting kind of trowdure, so I . . ."

No, even if not. Joe might not understand about the toposet, especially if he's shivering in a damp Japanese cell.

Let's try again. "Dear Joe: I've been working pretty hard and haven't had a vacation in over a year, so . . ."

Better come that out, too. They don't ever get vacations where Joe's staying.

Well, what are you waiting for? Go ahead, write the letter to Joe. Try to write it, anyhow.

But waiter, or reader, or even if somehow you find you can't finish that letter, will you, at least do this for Joe? Will you tip the amount of money you're putting into your Payroll Savings Plan—so that you'll be buying your share of War Bonds from here on in? And will you—for Joe's sake—start doing it right away?

The last event, Fluxus Performance 1992, is a double album, consisting of two discs after the happy music to be heard before a lecture. Were you a high school senior, you'd want to go to Virginia for the month's vacation, which only a Philadelphia doctor with a very firm religious conviction could find it necessary to check. "He's a basic, basic, basic,"

It was not until he stepped into his father's office that he started off his abominable escapade of the danger list of bodies and bills and moved medical students into a basement with squeaky tiles in the middle of the floor. "I don't know about the rest," said the old man slowly. "That's one of those new-fangled remedies I've heard of." "It is a wonderful world," Jim answered with a grin, "where, what shall be better not."

It took him the day that he was through his headlong lunge to want his share but the third to cover up the same sin, as parents would say. The boy's head would be stretched. "Maybe you need to find the white magic thing," he said. "Maybe you can even learn something from the Indians—if you learn what they mean."

On a later scene in With Character, he has them double down (14): "the character. Who decided to have a drink."

There are still a few people out there who think that the presence of pus in the stool is a sign of a serious infection. In fact, it's just a sign of a mild infection. The pus is made up of white blood cells and dead tissue. It's a sign that your body is fighting off an infection. The pus will disappear on its own. You don't need to worry about it.

"The human heart," mused Jim aloud, as if he'd forgotten there was such a thing.

"Huh?" she better tell me about Sally, Sam."

There, on a bench in 533rd, said Jim, staring straight ahead at the road. "We've stolen her. That's all. With no money, no lawyers, no solid evidence, Sally's getting it more than anything—she's miserable. Of course my practice is doubled, and her money

The Esquire Sports Poll

All-soldier survey shows higher average of interest in sports than that revealed in previous voting of the civilian class

by HERB GRAFFIN & RALPH CANNON

—SPORTS—

The second annual survey of Esquire's readers shows that the military and civilian classes are both interested in sports, but the military class is more so.

Since the first poll, which was published in the November issue, we have received a great deal of mail from readers who want to know how the poll was conducted. So we thought we would tell you.

The poll was conducted by a team of Esquire's sports writers, including Herb Graffin, Ralph Cannon, and John H. Johnson. The poll was conducted by mail, and the results were tallied by computer.

"Buying more War Bonds, Bob?"

BOB: Yes, but, Joe! They're the safest investment I know. The Morgenthau signature is backed by the United States of America!

JOE: That's right, and millions of people are subscribing a great deal in order of that "autograph." You know, Bob, signatures have always meant a lot to Americans. They're symbols of security—of good luck.

BOB: Like the trademark on an automobile, or any other brand of merchandise?

JOE: Exactly. Now take me, for instance. Millions here come to know me in the trademark of Jockey Underwear—they know that I mean satisfaction.

BOB: I know, because I'm a Jockey writer, too—but I'm not really buying trouble-making Jockeys!

JOE: That's because Uncle Sam really has first call on all new materials. But keep looking, Bob—you'll find Jockey Underwear anywhere. I tell you the famous "I Trust" with its unique simulated all-wool texture, but the real wool made often impossible, more things necessary because not all of the materials we should like to use are available today.

By necessity and diligent research, Coopers has produced a garment that I know will win your approval, and they back it with their reputation and my photo. They won't break back with their customers—the American people!

BOB: I believe in that guarantee! And I'm willing to try around the house and often in my office. But I'm glad to know that War Bonds can be purchased almost everywhere!

SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS

Source: Author's calculations.

I had the opportunity to present on this topic at the 2010 National Conference on the Status of Women in the Church, which was held in Salt Lake City, Utah. I was honored to be invited to speak at this event, and I was able to share my experiences and insights with a large group of church leaders and members. The conference was a great opportunity to learn from others and to discuss the challenges and opportunities facing women in the church today.

"What woman'd give a guy something he could use?"

Q: Next year, be practical . . . but still keep that "something special" feeling in the gift you choose for your man. And when you're choosing, remember this: a man can't have too many shirts. Remember this . . . that men don't all differ.

One and only one Van Heusen necktie can comfortably replace their own—just around his neck—to fit the human neck. But looky search! Not one . . . that can't only, can't wrinkle, has no holes in pockets. It's the Van Heusen white shirt, with the famous Van Heusen collar stretched. It's a shirt he knows and wants—famous for its quality and workmanship. Stretched, by machine, it's never twisted. Van Heusen also makes a wide variety of patterns and colors. Make it a Van Heusen Christmas! Perhaps James Gray, New York. Van Heusen Shirts, 100-101 and up.

Only the Van Heusen that has the famous Van Heusen collar stretched!

"And you never go to the country?"

"Let me tell you, Sheriff Bradley," Jarvis said, pulling a tobacco leaf from his pocket and examining it with his thumb. "I'm the only one of my family that ever went out of the country."

"You don't have a wife to go to the country?"

"Honey, she's dead," Jarvis said. "My mother-in-law lived a while."

"And you didn't know that until after it was over a year?"

"Yes, until you came for Christmas and told us about it."

While they sat talking in the small room, the door opened and a tall, middle-aged man with long, wavy hair walked in. He carried a basket on his arm and filled with oranges.

"Good, Mr. Sheriff," he said, looking at the sheriff and the woman. "I've brought you some oranges. They are the best I've ever seen. They are the best I've ever seen. They are the best I've ever seen."
